Democratic Ticket.

FOR CONGRESS,
A. O. STANLEY,
 OF HENDERSON.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Partly cloudy Saturday. No decided change in temperature.

The triumph of the tariff reformers in the Republican convention of Iowa was complete.

The soldiers' encampment at Henderson will be called Camp Harris, in honor of Mayor Harris.

The State Election Commissioners will meet August 30, to appoint the county boards.

Henry D. Smith, a college boy of Beloit, Wis., died of exposure in his efforts to rescue Miss Ruth Macomber from drowning the day before.

Judge C. O. Stockslager, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Indiana, is a native of Southern Indiana.

The scrubwomen of Chicago have floored their employers by going on a strike, out of sympathy for the striking window washers.

The Democrats of Iowa in convention at Waterloo harmonized all differences, nominated Claude Porter for Governor and endorsed Bryan for President.

Judge Gordon, of Hopkins, and Judge Sandidge, of Muhlenberg, should exchange ideas with Judge Bugg, of Graves, on the question of speckly trials for negro rape fiends.

The campaign against statehood, as proposed, has opened in Arizona. Indications are that a large majority of both parties will oppose admission jointly with New Mexico. Under the law passed, the rejection of the terms by either territory will defeat statehood for the present.

Frank Ball, the Bell county desperado, who escaped from jail at Richmond, Ky., was captured Thursday near Rose Hill, Va. He was surrounded in a cabin with John Lee and a fierce battle with a posse ensued, in which Lee was killed, when Ball surrendered. He has been taken to the Frankfort prison.

Mammoth Radish.

The latest contribution to the Kentuckian's collection of vegetable freaks is a radish brought in by Mr. C. H. Faulkner, of Gracey. It is of the turnip variety and measures 16 inches in circumference and weighs 2½ lbs. It grew in a row with other radishes and did go to seed.

Great Reduction In Prices of Wall Paper

Nobody is absolutely infallible. We all make some mistakes. One of our mistakes of last season was buying too much wall paper.

We want to turn our surplus stock into cash for two reasons, viz: We need the cash and want to make room for the new fall stock. In order to do this,

We will for the next ten days, beginning Monday, July 16, sell everything in the WALL PAPER line at greatly reduced prices.

We mean business.

GARRE OF AMERICAN SOLDIER UNDERGOING MODIFICATION.

English Tailoring Expert Brought to This Country by War Department to Design New Style of Army Dress.

It may not have occurred to most people who have seen the smart, soldierly dress of the enlisted men that there was any opportunity for improvement in appearance or utility of the present uniform, but nevertheless this is one of the matters which is always receiving consideration by the war department with a view not only of providing the most comfortable and most serviceable style of dress, but also one which will be as inconspicuous as possible upon the field of battle. This latter reason is the chief one why the khaki cloth was adopted some few years ago, but it seems that it is impossible to provide this kind of material in sufficient quantities to supply all the needs of the army, so that it is proposed to equip only that part of the army with khaki uniforms which are serving in the Philippines and other warm sections of American territory.

This leaves a large part of the army to be provided for with other style of uniform, and the matter has been taken up with energy by the war department, which is going into the question so thoroughly as even to send to England and bring over a military tailoring expert, who will give his ideas as to what the uniform of the United States soldier should be in design and fit.

George V. Winter, the man upon whom devolves this responsibility, is himself a soldier, having seen service in the South African campaign, during which time he had ample opportunity of studying the needs of the soldier in actual service. He is a man verging on middle life, and has a rather full figure and dark mustache and hair.

Mr. Winter's South African experience was used to considerable profit, for he was able to design various articles of military equipment which were adopted at once. He was the creator of the puttee leggings, originated for special facility in fastening, doing away with the buttons and straps, and which is not only neater and smarter in appearance, but far more serviceable than the leggings used in our own army. He has also invented a special system of facing for the knees of cavalry breeches, which garments he has turned into a different shape from those worn a few years ago.

Discussing the American soldier, Mr. Winter said he had been surprised to find that the American private was the best looking soldier in the world.

"I find he is at least an inch broader in the shoulders than the average English private. I was, indeed, almost astonished to find your men of the ranks so well set up. In figure they are smarter, or, perhaps I should say, more lithe, than our men generally.

"From the measurements I have taken it appears that the average American soldier is from a half to three-quarters of an inch taller than the British. This may be surprising to those Americans who are familiar only with the appearance of our life guard, but, then, the latter are all selected for their height and physique, and consequently are exceptional.

"There is no doubt that the American private far outclasses the French, not only in dress, but also in physique. You see, the Frenchman is bound to become a soldier. It is not a matter of choice with him, as it is with the American. In consequence, the French army is recruited from all classes and the result is that a regiment is apt to present far from a homogeneous appearance.

"In the German army service is of course obligatory but the officers make the men work hard, and manage to lick them into fairly good shape. Still, the German soldiers are trussed up too much.

"We in England like the forage cap very much. You see the small chin strap compels a man to keep his hair tidy, his head up in its proper place and his mouth closed. I must admit I don't like your felt hat as well as your cap. About the canvas leggings your soldiers wear I cannot speak. Our men wear the winding puttees."

IN BERRY CASE HIGHLY HONORED

Verdict That Mrs. Berry's Sings a Solo In Shakespeare's Memorial Theater.

HUSBAND CHARGED.

Alleged She Was Struck in Stomach and Never Gained Consciousness.

At the inquest held over the dead body of Mrs. W. B. Berry Tuesday there was so much evidence of violence that the coroner's jury recommended that the grand jury make an investigation. It was found that she had some bruised places on her body and testimony was given to the effect that her husband had been seen to strike her with a tin pan in the stomach.

The woman gave birth to a child only a few days before and was barely able to be up. She ran screaming from the house and fell unconscious in the yard. Neighbors picked her up and took her into the house and she died without regaining consciousness. The woman was buried Wednesday by the county authorities. Berry has not been arrested. He has a family of children in the most abject poverty. County Attorney Duffy is trying to arrange for the children to be sent to some home.

Suit For $7,000.

A suit was filed in the circuit court last Thursday by F. K. Yost against F. J. Brownell, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover nearly $7,000. In his petition Mr. Yost states that when he assumed his duties as manager of the Crescent Mills Mr. Brownell, in addition to the regular salary of $100 per month, was to allow him whatever excess there might be over a dividend of 6 per cent. on his stock. During the three years Mr. Yost has been with the mills he claims that nearly $7,000 is coming to him on his contract with the defendant, who, until recently, owned a controlling interest in the mills.

TOURISTS ARE HAPPY.

One Accident of Little Importance Only Mishap.

A letter from Mr. G. E. Johnson from Europe to the Courier-Journal, says:

"Miss Hattie Feirstein feels that the most distinguished honor yet conferred on any member of the party has been given her. At the Shakespeare Memorial Theater, Stratford, she was permitted to go on the stage and sing a solo for the benefit of half a dozen members of the party and the manager of the theater. A splendid picture of Mary Anderson graces the art gallery, and a marble bust of her is in the lobby. Her home is about twelve miles from Stratford, but our party could not see it for lack of time.

"The health of the party has been excellent. There has not been even a headache since the first three or four days on shipboard. Miss Hattie Feirstein slipped on the wet deck of the steamer the day before reaching Scotland, bruising her knee, but the accident was not serious, and she has not missed a trip, walking or riding."

CONCERT

For Benefit of Y. M. C. A. Building May Be Given.

The indications are that about the first of September a concert will be given at the Tabernacle under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. building committee. The affair is yet in its embryonic state, but it is probable that a musical will be arranged for in the next two weeks.

The completion of the building is something that should challenge the interest of all and should the entertainment be given ought to receive the encouragement of everybody. It is time for something to be done to complete the building. As soon as this is done all that will be necessary to secure the money for putting in the equipment for the gymnasium is to notify Mr. John C. Latham. He has pledged the committee that he will furnish the funds to put in a modern gymnasium as soon as the building is ready for it.

Our citizens should imitate the people of Henderson and make up their minds to complete the building, name a day when they will start a whirlwind canvass and complete it before night. This can be done. Somebody ought to take the initiative at once. Follow the example of Henderson and get some of the ladies interested in the matter and success will be assured.

Large Men. Stout Men.

Men who think they are hard to fit because they are out of the ordinary—can dress as neatly and becomingly as the most perfect tailor's model.

Inexpensively? Yes, extremely so. It's not the price that makes the fit; it depends entirely on the design and tailoring. Schloss Bros. & Co., of Baltimore and New York, are known the world over as Specialty makers of fine Ready-to-Wear Garments. They have made a study of draping large, stout men and men out of the ordinary proportions.

What we mean by "draping" is not merely "dressing," or "clothing." We mean fitting them perfectly in garments particularly designed to moderate where nature has been profuse and to fit out where nature has been deficient.

In other words, this Schloss clothing not only clothes the figure, but "drapes" it as well,—makes the style of the moment seem to have been especially designed for the wearer.

A trial is all that's necessary to convince you. Come to see us. Try one of these Schloss specialties and you will be surprised to see how well-proportioned and handsomely dressed you can look by simply wearing clothes especially designed by these skillful tailors to fit men of just your build and physique.

Prices are not high! To the contrary, very reasonable, because these celebrated clothes makers cut and tailor these goods in large quantities by the wholesale, and they cost you no more than similar clothes of ordinary size.

We are certain that if you come in and try on one of these suits you will become a permanent patron, and thank us for the suggestion.

Yours truly,

The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the Jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any Jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

New York Life.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30th, 1906.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent, New York Life Insurance Co., City.

Dear Sir:—It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $52.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '86. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.85, (which is more than I have paid in in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00.

The cash settlement of $1,215.85 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5½ per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.
